Old Country Sports Scene

Here's another Old Country sports review by former Daily Colonist sports writer Ian Glenday, on an extended trip to England and the Continent.

LONDON—Tottenham Hotspur, well remembered by Victorians as the team with a scientific approach to the game, have, sadly to say, lost the art of control football. Once a team of purpose that worked on the theory that it is far easier ot let the ball do most of the work, the 'Spurs have lost the magic touch of the short pass.

There is no smooth rhythm, no cohesion when 'Spurs try to execute a play. The players, life craftsmen who have suddenly lost their skill, are working individually and not pulling together in the manner that was to be their trademark for the past few seasons.

It was, therefore, a disappointing afternoon to watch Tottenham flounder against Manchester United at White Hart Lane, where almost 50,000 spectators hopefully came to see 'Spurs end Manchester's nine-game unbeaten streak but were shortly convinced that this was not to be the day when it would happen.

It is through no ill luck or circumstances that Tottenham is near the bottom of the First Division table and in danger of relegation to the Second Division. 'Spurs standing generally reflects their performances this season and this match was to prove no exception. Indeed, Tottenham never looked the winner and during the first 15 minutes of play Manchester scored one goal and forced six corners.

Tottenham showed the occasional flash of brilliance but the spark flickered out all too quickly through a wasted pass, a player out of position or the attacking forward holding on to the ball too long.

'Spurs lacked a player of authority and it could be that the absence of Irish International halfback Danny Blanchflower is hurting. Blanchflower, still playing inside forward for the reserve team, is a leader and Tottenham appears badly in need of a player of this type.

Blanchflower, who still feels he has at least two seasons of First Division football ahead of him, has asked for a transfer but Tottenham officials have refused to let him go.

★ ★ ★

What a contrast between Tottenham and Manchester. Led by that incomparable inside trio of Viollet, Quixall and Charlton, United moved with simplicity and gave Tottenham a lesson in the fundamentals. United's tackling was hard, if not vicious on occasion; the defence made mistakes but covered well and did not panic, and in Gregg Manchester has a daring goalkeeper with as fine a pair of hands as any First Division keeper.

But it is the inside combination that usually hits the fatal blow against the opposition. Interchanging frequently and bewildering the opposition with quick, sharp and short passes, Quixall, Viollet and Charlton work to find the scoring opportunities with uncanny perception.

Slipery Serpent, which has compiled an impressive record in the weather-interrupted racing program this fall, is Ireland's big hope for the Grand National, to be run at Aintree March 21. Ireland has had brilliant success in recent Grand Nationals and Slippery Serpent is as good an Irish contender to come along for a good few years.

Slippery Serpent is a good jumper and will receive weight from several of the entrants, being asked to carry 151 pounds. Kerstin has been assessed top weight of 168 pounds with Mr. What, last year's winner, carrying 163 pounds—14 pounds more than he carried in the 1958 'chase.

Fifty-two horses are still in the race, including last year's top four of Mr. What, Tiberetta, Green Drill and Wyndburgh.

Selection of Harvie Ward to America's Walker Cup team has met with some disapproval among British golf officials. There is a strong feeling in some quarters that because Ward lost his amateur status for a year in 1957, he should not have been picked to play against the British Isles at Muirfield, May 15 and 16. Ward, who lost his amateur status for accepting expenses while playing in tournaments, has been reinstated for a year but many still question his qualifications as an "amateur." The Royal and Ancient Golf Club has announced the appointment of G. H. Micklem, J. J. F. Pennink and J. S. Montgomerie as selectors for British International golf sides for the next four years.

Ronald Barton, owner of the successful ocean racer Norlethe, believes that Britain must first find eight skilled sailing men who can spare the time to act as crew before she can become a serious challenger for the America's Cup. Barton is considering building a 12-metre yacht as a potential challenger but he will not give the order to build until a suitable crew is found.

Finding a crew of skilled young men with the time and money to spend in an all-out attempt on the America's Cup will be a difficult matter. Barton would like to get together a crew that could devote six months in 1960 and again in 1961 exclusively to sailing.

Barton has definite ideas on the shape of hull which he feels would be successful against the likes of Columbia, and he has already had a preliminary set of lines drawn up. At least three other potential challengers are planned.

Future Red Wing Heroes?

Jerry Sawchuk, four, peeks out from behind his dad's pads during a workout at Detroit's Olympia, and finds himself faced with a power play put on by two members of the Howe hockey clan, Mark (left), three, and Marty, five. The two forwards learned their skating from their famous father, Gordie, while Jerry borrowed the pads from Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk.—(CPC)

Maloney Pots Two For Winning Hawks

CHICAGO — Chicago Black Hawks, who went to great lengths to get Phil Maloney, then put him on the bench and forgot about him, let him see some action last night and the former Vancouver star scored twice to lead them to a 4-2 victory over New York Rangers.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
Montreal	55	30	13	12	190	117	72
Chicago	57	23	21	13	163	163	59
Boston	57	24	25	8	165	175	56

Detroit	54	21	27	6	128	134	48
Toronto	55	19	27	9	138	160	47

Last night's score: New York 2 at Chicago 4.
Next game: tonight, Detroit at Montreal.

Maloney had played only 12 games previously since going to the Black Hawks from Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League. The Hawks had waged a long and bitter feud with the WHL to pry him loose from the Canucks.

The 31-year-old centre hadn't even been in strip for recent games. But he was in fine form last night and may have earned himself the right to a real chance at making the National Hockey League.

Maloney got the opening goal of the game at 4.41 of the first period, and scored what proved to be the winner at 6.04 of the third. Linemates Earl Balfour and Tod Sloan got the other goals for Chicago.

30th GOAL

Dean Prentice and Andy Bathgate scored for the Rangers. Bathgate's goal, his 30th of the year, gave him a two-point edge over Ed Litzenberger and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal Canadiens in the league scoring race. He has 66 points.

Victory moved the Hawks three points ahead of Boston Bruins in their battle for second place and seven points up on the slumping Rangers.

It was the fourth straight victory over the Rangers for the Chicago club.

Bathgate and Pierre Pilote of the Hawks drew major penalties for fighting in the third period. Ted Lindsay came out of the game with a five-stitch cut on the lower lip after a brawl with New York's Lou Fontinato.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Chicago, Maloney (Balfour, Ferguson) 4.41.
2. Chicago, Balfour 13.34.

Versatile Wilf Lund Busy at All Sports

By LES MILLIN

Who says that public schools turn out all the best athletes? Obviously he hasn't met University School's Wilf Lund.

Wilf is a popular boy at University School. As captain of the rugby and hockey teams, commanding officer of the cadet corps, and Head Boy of the School, he leads a busy life.

Big — six-feet-one and 180 pounds—and brawny, he is naturally suited for rugby, his favorite sport. Wilf's 50th game was chalked up recently, when he led the University School XV to a crushing 22-0 defeat of Victoria High School.

He spreads his rugby talent around. Besides captaining the School team, he has played for Oak Bay Wanderers and the United Services teams.

As a crack shot, Lund is the natural choice for commanding officer of the school's cadet corps. Last year, Wilf was second shot at the school—one-tenth of 1 per cent behind the first, with the outstanding average of 97 per cent.

University School is one of the few with a men's grass hockey team, and Wilf Lund is its captain. They have a hard time finding other schools to play, but so far have not had to challenge one of the local girl teams.

Native Victorian, Wilf is in his last year at University School, and its competent Head Boy. There's no doubt of his school loyalty—he gave up a chance to play for the Crimson Tide because of it.

Representing his school, he went to Europe last year with the B.C. boys' rugby team. Wilf was undaunted by their defeat — "they play a fierce brand of rugby over there."

After he leaves high school, 17-year-old Wilf plans to go as a naval cadet to HMCS Venture, and later to Royal Roads, aiming for a career in the navy. One thing is certain—if he does as well at sea as he has on land, he'll be an admiral in no time!

. . . future admiral?

Burgess Sets Record In X-Country Race

Tommy Burgess, Victoria High School's top track star, raced in 250 yards ahead of his nearest follower to set a record of 22 minutes, seven seconds for the Mount Tolmie course in the interscholastic cross country run yesterday.

Fifty runners, representing four B.C. high schools, made up the field competing for the newly-presented T. Eaton trophy over the four-and-a-half-mile course.

Shawnigan Lake School's Fred Waters, long-time rival of Burgess, matched his pace through most of the race to drop far behind in the gruelling last mile of the run, finishing second in 22 minutes 27 seconds.

Victoria High's Ian Fraser, former Pacific Northwest champion, was the last holder of the record in 22 minutes, 17 seconds.

Other schools represented in the annual race were University School and St. George High School.
